In "The Nose," a man wakes up one morning to find that his nose has disappeared. He searches high and low for it, but it's nowhere to be found. As the days go by, he begins to realize that his life is meaningless without his nose. He loses his job, his friends, and his sanity. In the end, he is left alone, wondering what the point of it all is.

In "The Metamorphosis," a man wakes up one morning to find that he has been transformed into a giant insect. He tries to go about his normal life, but he is met with disgust and rejection from his family and friends. He eventually comes to terms with his transformation and learns to embrace his new life. However, he is still left with the question of what it means to be human.

These are just two of the many thought-provoking stories that you'll find in Best Short Stories: Absurdist Best Short Stories Specials 19. If you're looking for a read that will challenge your beliefs and make you question the world around you, then this is the collection for you.
