About the poets

The poets in Vol. Poetry are a diverse group of writers from all over the United States. They come from different backgrounds, experiences, and perspectives, and their poems reflect the richness and diversity of the American experience.

Here are some of the poets featured in Vol. Poetry:

- Amanda Gorman is a young poet who has gained national recognition for her powerful and inspiring work. Her poem "The Hill We Climb" was read at President Biden's inauguration in 2021.
- W.H. Auden was a British-American poet who is considered one of the most important poets of the 20th century. His poems are known for their wit, intelligence, and exploration of human nature.
- Maya Angelou was an American poet, memoirist, and civil rights activist. Her poems are known for their beauty, power, and honesty. She is one of the most celebrated poets of the 20th century.
- Langston Hughes was an American poet, social activist, novelist, playwright, and columnist from Joplin, Missouri. One of the earliest innovators of the literary art form called jazz poetry, Hughes is best known for his celebration of African American culture.

- Adrienne Rich was an American poet, essayist, and feminist. Her poems are known for their exploration of gender, sexuality, and power. She is one of the most influential poets of the 20th century.

These are just a few of the many talented poets featured in Vol. Poetry. Their poems offer a unique and powerful perspective on the American experience, and they are sure to inspire and move readers of all backgrounds.
